Question 1

Potential benefits of nuclear power: % of respondents saying very important

Question 2

Issues that EDF needs to address to "a very great extent"

Question 3

National and strategic issues that are seen as "very relevant" to the development of new nuclear power at Hinkley Point.

Both EDF and British Energy conducted consultations in 2008. Attendance at the events were similar, and both highlighted similar issues from attendees.

EDF Consultation

- 4 EDF exhibitions attended by approximately 275 people
- 130 questionnaires returned
- 47 separate public enquiries and comments
- 48 stakeholders attended the five workshops
- Parish Council and stakeholder meetings undertaken

EDF provided a questionnaire to members of the public, both at the consultation events and on the consultation website.

The responses highlighted not only the concerns that people had but also the benefits that they saw as being a result of new nuclear being built at Hinkley Point.
